

BRIEFS.

If that Standard Oil prosecution is delayed long enough the steamship companies may do a fine business in de luxe suites.—New York World.

The new senator from Kansas is said not to look like a senator. But he may not appear so innocent by the time his term expires.—Toledo Blade.

Senator Benson of Kansas, was born in New York. The state is not entirely without representation in the United States senate.—N. Y. World.

"I want to see the president of this Ice Trust personally on urgent business." "Sorry, sir; but his term does not expire till next week."—Baltimore American.

John D. is in France. If he finds things in general nailed down let him remember that the French are disposed to take American humor very seriously.—Chicago Record-Herald.

John Sharp Williams has nominated Mr. Bryan for President on the first ballot and elected him. Yet stranger things have happened in American politics.—New York World.

A man in Camden, N. J., got a postal card which had been mailed to him in that city twenty years before. The postal service may be slow in New Jersey—but just think how sure it is.—New York Press.

Thomas A. Edison says he expects soon to place the automobile within the reach of all. It would be much better if he would find a way to place all of us out of the reach of the automobile.—Houston Post.

A New York man pushed a woman off a car which he thought was uncomfortably crowded. Chicago is not the only city in which there is need for a more rigid inspection and regulation of hogs.—Washington Post.

The proposition to remove the policemen from the White House and place soldiers on guard has not met with great favor. In view of the stories being told, a detachment of marines would seem more appropriate.—Washington Post.

The prodigal son, after the banquet, arose to propose his father's health. "I want to correct one error of the press," he said. "I came home not because the fare was poor, but the fact is, neighbors, those pigs had never been inspected."—Minneapolis Journal.

Governor Warfield, of Maryland, has appointed a man who is 82 years of age to succeed Gorman in the senate. Henry Cassaway Davis, of West Virginia, will kindly take notice that the governor of Maryland believes in giving the boys a show.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Mary had a little lamb,
And when she saw it sicken,
She shipped it off to Packingtown
And now it's labeled chicken.
—N. Y. Evening Post.

WHERE DEEPEST LOVE ABIDES.

God's Goodness Chiefly Felt by Those in Tribulation.

Where is it that God, in His searching of the hearts of His children, hears the tones of the deepest love, and sees on the uplifted face the light of the most heartfelt gratitude? Not where His gifts are most profuse, but where they seem most meager; not where the suppliant's worship glides forth from the cushion of luxury through lips saturated with plenty and rounded by health; not within the halls of successful ambition, or even the dwellings of unbroken domestic peace; but where the outcast, flying from persecution, kneels in the evening on the rock whereon he sleeps; by the fresh grave, where, as the earth is opened, heaven in answer opens too; by the pillow of the wasted sufferer, where the sunken eye, denied sleep, converses with a silent star, and the hollow voice enumerates in low prayer the scanty list of comforts and the shortened tale of hopes.—Martineau.

How Dalmatian Peasants Live.

In the interior of Dalmatia the laborers still live in the old patriarchal fashion. The eldest male rules the household as might some czar; in fact, it is not so many years since he had life and death power over its inmates. When a son weds he brings his wife to his father's house, that the property may remain in the family. There, while he works in the field—for they are peasant farmers, working lands held by hereditary proprietors, almost as might the serfs of Russia—she tends the dwelling. When his guests come she sends out not only for him, but for the patriarch, since he alone can really welcome a visitor and he keeps the keys to the shelf where is stored the gin in which a toast is offered to friendship.

Costume of Lady Choristers.

A most becoming costume is worn in church by the lady choristers of St. Clement's church, Moaman, a suburb of Sydney. It consists of a simple black skirt, a plainly made liberty silk blouse, with a muslin collar, and a bishop's lawn surplice.

How Ivy Preserves Walls.

Growing ivy preserves walls from damp. The tendrils and roots extract every drop of the moisture from the bricks and mortar, and the foliage keeps rain off the walls.

BURN GOOD COAL.

Quite a number of new homes are being furnished just now, and by people who want the best of everything.

This ad is to acquaint you with the fact that the best domestic coal you can get is mined at Castle Gate or Clear Creek.

Ask your retailer for it, and insist upon getting it. You don't need much just now, but you'll need it later.

WALKER'S STORE

Facts about our Saturday half-holidays

Saturday we close the store at 12:30 m. This action will be in effect to September 1st.

Reasons for choosing Saturday Afternoon.

- 1st—By closing Saturday afternoon we give our employees opportunity for leaving the city.
- 2nd—After having their outing, where it may be, all day Sunday remains for them to rest and recuperate.
- 3rd—Employees will not have to appear at work tired and listless the next morning, as would be the case if the half holiday came during the week.
- 4th—Saturday is the longest department store day in the week, having about 14 hours; by closing Saturday employees really get about 9 hours or nearly a full day off.
- 5th—All the large stores in the leading cities tacitly agree that Saturday is the logical day for a half holiday, most of them closing at 2:30 or 1 o'clock.

So we have decided that Saturday, being the day most generally recognized as "vacation day," will be the most beneficial to employees. Hence our independent action.

Saturday morning and Wednesday all day will be very attractive to shoppers.
